

To Our Patrons.
We have placed our last year's accounts, with a few advertising accounts which are due, in the hands of Mr. J. H. Loe for collection. Of the accounts which belong to the old firm of Helms & Major, and for that and other reasons must be settled on presentation. We have about $2,000 due us on these accounts in the county and town, and as they have been due for some time, and Mr. Loe is collecting on commission and therefore cannot afford to lose his time, and furthermore as the Yeoman Office needs the money, we hope our patrons will find it convenient to anti without delay.

NOW IS THE TIME TO ORDER IRON RAILING.
Mr. Hood has requested us to notify those who desire to obtain railing from the firm of Hood & Co., to leave their orders with him, as soon as they can, at the Mauston House.

HOGAN'S GIFT ENTERPRISE.—Messrs. MORRIS & HAMPTON still have a few tickets in this great enterprise left. The prizes offered are well worth the risk of one dollar. Buy a ticket.

Hallogabulus in the old "times gone," spent a fortune in securing nightingales, and brains to satisfy his epicurean desires; and the glutton Apicius devoted a life time to inventing new and rare comestibles, yet we think if either had eaten a piece of that venison, which was served up by our friend LUCKETT, of the Mauston House, on Tuesday, he would have been willing to renounce his nightingale tongues and brains. The steaks were splendid, and served up in the same good style that Jack does everything, and if we can judge from the manner in which the boards devoured it, we would suppose that they appreciated to the fullest extent, not only the venison, but the manner in which it was cooked. By the way, Jack and the Mauston are celebrated for their good dinners and other meals, and if any persons want to live high, let them go to the Mauston House.

THE HENDERSON REPORTER FOR SALE.—Mr. HENDERSON, its able editor, says he has served a full term at the business and wishes to retire. Henderson is a first rate location for a good Democratic paper, and Mr. Henderson promises to sell over any advantageous terms.

Mr. SAMUEL WILLIAMS, of Paris, has purchased of S. GARFIELD, Esq., one-half of the office of the Kentucky State Flag, and will assume a part of the editorial duties of the office. Mr. W. is a talented young man, and a thorough democrat.

A man named BUNYAN has been held to bail in $10,000, in Henderson, Ky., to answer the charge of endeavoring to entice away slaves from their masters.

The residence of A. D. HENT, Esq., at Louisville, was entered a few nights ago, and robbed of a considerable amount of silverware.

An attempt was made on Tuesday to fire the jewelry store of Mr. F. YERKE, at Lexington.

JOSEPH M. GREGORY, Esq., late representative from Boone county, has removed to Memphis, and "hung out his shingle" there as attorney-at-law.

In Quincy market, Boston, the day before Thanksgiving, there were sold 4,517 turkeys, 3,927 pairs of chickens and 1,007 geese.

WORTH KNOWING.—The application of towels, wrung out in hot water, to the forehead and temples, is a speedy and efficacious remedy for headache arising from neuralgic affections.

STOCKS IN CINCINNATI.—The brokers of Cincinnati report the following sales of stocks in that city during the past week: 130 shares Covington and Lexington Railroad at 30; 5 do Southern Bank of Kentucky at 80; 75 do Farmers' Bank of Kentucky at 100; $1,210 Newport Safety Fund Bank Notes at 26 1/2.

In Scott county, Ind., it is said that the hogs are so poor that they have to soak them in order that they may hold their sides together so extremely thin. It is said that in some parts of the same county they use side-pork for window glass.

FATHER GAVAZZI now lectures in England dressed in a robe in which there is a representation of an open Bible embroidered on the breast.

ROBBERY.—The residence of Mr. THOMAS ROWSE, on the Lexington turnpike, about four miles from Louisville, was robbed on Monday night during the absence of himself and family. The robbers are supposed to have been three Germans, named JOHNS and JOSE, THOMAS and JOHN MILLER. They were working for Mr. B., and since the robbery have disappeared. They took thirty-five dollars in money, a gun worth about forty dollars, and a number of implements used in the cultivation of grapes and fruits.

DISCOVERY OF THE FROZEN BODIES OF SIR JOHN FRANKLIN AND HIS MEN.—A very extraordinary piece of intelligence reaches us by the way of Lake Superior. The Lake Superior Mining News of the 27th ult., says that private letters inform the editor of that paper that the bodies of SIR JOHN FRANKLIN and his men have been found by Dr. DRAKE's party, completely frozen and in a state of preservation. The News adds that the source from which this information came is such as to warrant its correctness.

CAPT. ALLEN'S CUBAN ARMY.—A London paper before us, in referring to Capt. ALLEN's public notice of the discharge of his Cuban company, says: "A gallant party at Louisville, numbering 15,000 persons, was recently discharged for lack of means."

Rev. Dr. W. L. BRECKINRIDGE has declined accepting the second invitation to become President of Westminster College, at Fulton, Mo.

KILLED BY OYSTERS.—A few days ago, Mr. WOLF, of the Shelbyville (Mo.) Star, died from eating largely of oysters cooked in a new brass kettle.

Rev. ALEX. CAMPBELL is at Hopkinsville, Ky.

COURT OF APPEALS.

Second Day.

TUESDAY, Dec. 6.

Judge SIMMONS appeared and took his seat.

CASES DECIDED.

Commonwealth v Jones, (3 cases) Clinton; reversed.

Same v Marlow, Clinton; reversed.

Same v Carter, Clinton; reversed.

Sanders v Commonwealth, Jessamine; reversed.

Doe v Sane, Anderson; affirmed.

Garrard v Sane, Pendleton; affirmed.

Reynolds v Sane, Grant; reversed.

Burbridge v Ellis, Scott; reversed.

Dani v Wright, Scott; reversed.

Gault v Dougherty, Scott; appeal dismissed.

Allen v Larr, Franklin; affirmed.

ORDERS.

Callaway v Murphy, Kenton; appeal dismissed.

Rule v Vaughan, Johnson.

Wedding v Laine, Floyd.

May v Gardner, Floyd—were argued.

Third Day.

WEDNESDAY, Dec. 6.

CASES DECIDED.

Walling on v Laine, Floyd; affirmed.

May v Gardner, Floyd; reversed.

Kule v Vaughan, Johnson; do.

Taylor v Commonwealth, Shelby; do.

Galt v Sane, Oldham; do.

Miller v Ellis, Scott; do.

Asbrook v Charles, Ballard; do.

Carron v Barnett, Livingston; dismissed.

ORDERS.

Hunter v Ayres, Owen.

Wickliffe v Irvine, Carter.

Brans v Carter, Carter.

Duff v Walker, Perry.

Garnett v Arnet, Morgan.

Kendall v Spradling, Morgan.

Lynkin v Reed, Morgan.

Casky v Lewis, Morgan—were argued.

Fourth Day.

THURSDAY, Dec. 7.

CASES DECIDED.

Commonwealth v Bird, Shelby; affirmed.

Garnett v Arnet, Morgan; affirmed.

Godey v Combs, Perry; reversed.

Wickliffe v Irvine, Carter; reversed.

Yelton v Mosely, Franklin; reversed.

Kendall v Spradling, Morgan; appeal dismissed for want of jurisdiction.

ORDERS.

Bedinger v Platt, Kenton; appeal dismissed.

Kendall v Atkins, Morgan.

Mayberry v Johnson, Morgan.

Daniel v McVane, Bath.

Boyd v Moore, Bath.

Berry v Berry, were argued.

Fifth Day.

FRIDAY, Dec. 8.

CASES DECIDED.

Mayberry v Johnson, Morgan; affirmed.

Duff v Walker, Perry; affirmed.

Lynkin v Reed, Morgan; affirmed.

Berry v Berry, Bath; reversed.

Atkins v Kendall, Morgan; appeal dismissed.

Kentucky Seminary v Wallace, affirmed, as to the admission of the deed but judgment on the motion to give costs for the failure to take a deposition reversed.

ORDERS.

Britton v Randolph, Louisville; opinion modified and petition for a rehearing overruled.

ORDERS.

Satterfield v Collier, Bath.

Berry v Kendall, Bath.

Tully v Ragland, Montgomery.

Desha v Rogers, do.

Anderson v Crawford, do.

Shurbutt v Craig, do.

Myers v Hise, do.

Schoke v Greenwald, do—were argued.

CALIFORNIA NEWS BY THE STAR OF THE WEST.

The New York Evening Post contains some items of California intelligence, additional to those received by telegraph:

A duel was fought on the 5th of November, between Col. J. D. Woodhull and Achilles Kewenau, about ten miles from Oakland. About one hundred and fifty persons were assembled as spectators of the encounter. The parties fought with Mississippi rifles at forty paces—placed back to back, and to wheel and fire. At the first discharge Col. Woodhull fell, shot through the left, and died instantly. He was shot through and through, and was dead almost as soon as he touched the earth. Mr. Kewenau was unhurt.

[From the Placer Times, Nov. 9.]

The election on the 5th, for city controller, resulted in Mr. Sherman receiving a majority of 1,012 votes over Mr. Haight. There were no regular nominees in the field. Mr. Sherman is understood to have been the nominee of the Know-Nothing. The whole number of votes polled was 1,740.

The Allied Fleet and other Squadrons in the Pacific.—Since the rupture of that allied fleet at Petropolski, the movements of the respective vessels have become a matter of interest. The greater portion of the combined squadron now lie at anchor in our harbor.

They comprise: H. B. M. frigates President and Pique, sloo-of-war Amphitrite and steamer Virago, and the French frigates Fort and Eurydice. They are accompanied by their prize, the Russian ship Sitka. H. B. M. discovery ship Rover is also in port.

The French brig-of-war Obligado, which constituted a portion of the squadron in its attack upon Petropolski, sailed from this port on Saturday last for Vancouver, to make inquiry into the circumstances attending the death of Count de Roussel Boulbon.

The Brig Henry Williams, which arrived on Monday night from Sydney, reported a heavy cannonade outside the Heads, resembling a sea-fight, and last night there was a firing reported through the city, said to have been brought about by a shot to the effect that the Obligado had encountered a Russian frigate. The report, however, needs confirmation.

In addition to the vessels above enumerated, H. B. M. sloo-of-war Trincomee and the French corvette L'Arctique, from the Sandwich Islands, arrived within a few days. The whereabouts of the Russian frigate Diana is not known, although it is presumed she is cruising somewhere in our waters, perhaps at no great distance from some of her antagonists.

The Russian frigate Aurora and sloo-of-war Dwina, were left by the allies at Petropolski, but where they may now be is a matter of speculation. The U. S. steam frigate Susquehanna was reported at San Francisco harbor, she having just returned merely for a supply of coal.

The steam frigate Mississippi was to have left Hong Kong three days after the Susquehanna, and may also be expected.

ANOTHER SURETY ORDER.—The San Augustine Red Lander learns that a new secret order has been instituted at Lockhart, Texas, called the "Temple of Wisdom," and that the mysteries and ceremonies are conducted by young ladies. We do not see how any order can be secret when a young lady is cognizant of the mysteries. Of one thing, however, we are certain. If branches of the "Temple of Wisdom" are established in every city, town, village and hamlet throughout the Union, and young and pretty ladies are the priestesses, all Young America will soon be worshipping at the temple, and the order will become omnipotent.

The Frankfurt Yoonnn comes to us this week in a new and very beautiful dress. We cheerfully recommend it to our Democratic friends. In this edition, it is liberally with the Proprietors abundant success.—Burling Green Standard.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.

SENATE.—The Senate was called to order by the Secretary at a quarter before one.

Mr. Jones offered a resolution that the Senate proceed forthwith to the consideration of a President, pro tem, and take the debate, the resolution was adopted. The result of the balloting was as follows: Bright 21, Dawson 2, Chase 6, Foote 2, Badger 1. Mr. Bright was declared elected and took the chair. He was escorted to the chair by Messrs. Jones and Shields, and returned thanks for the honor conferred upon him.

Mr. Seward offered a resolution that they go into the election of a Chaplain, which was laid over.

Mr. Dodge gave notice of a bill to improve the Des Moines Rapids.

Mr. Cass gave notice of a bill for the construction of a channel across the Straits of Florida.

The motion of Mr. Seward to send the committee on the Pacific Railroad construction, to the principal standing committees.

The Senate then adjourned.

HOUSE.—The Speaker announced the standing committees. They are the same as last session, other than the supply of vacancies.

The Colt patent committee, appointed at the last session, was continued.

Mr. Phillips offered a resolution instructing the committee on ways and means to bring in a bill reducing the duty on railroad iron or allowing an extended credit on the same.

Mr. Jones, of Tennessee, moved to lay on the table, which was carried—yeas 97, nays 70.

Mr. Latham introduced a bill extending the time for the California Land Commissioners to complete their duties.

Mr. Taylor, of Tenn., gave notice of a bill altering the naturalization laws, so as to prevent the enlistment of foreigners into the army and navy, and to prevent paupers and convicts from emigrating.

Mr. Sellers introduced a resolution calling for information as to the object of the conference of the American ministers at Ostend.

Mr. Sellers advocated his resolution, and stated his object to be to obtain light on that mysterious conference.

Mr. Bayly justified the ministers in holding a conference, considering the unsettled state of affairs in Europe, and thought that the President's message ought to disarm the gentleman of his distrust of the foreign policy of the administration.

Mr. Wentworth followed in seconding the views of Mr. Bayly, and approving the message and the foreign policy of the administration.

Mr. Gray advocated the resolution, and was merely an inquiry, and thought that the communication of anything detrimental to the public interest.

Messrs. Washburn and Hillyer advocated the bill, and Mr. Phillips deprecated its favor.

Mr. Lecher said he would vote for it. He distrusted our minister at Madrid, and while he was willing Mr. Sane should have a chance of vindication, if innocent, he desired, if guilty, his guilt should be known to the country.

Mr. Tyler, of Ohio, was glad the resolution was introduced. He said no man of foreign birth ought to represent this country abroad.

After further debate a motion was made to refer the resolution to the committee on foreign affairs, which was lost—yeas 83, nays 84.

Pending the question on the resolution, the House adjourned.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.

SENATE.—Mr. Badger offered a resolution directing the payment to Mr. Adelson of a sum equal to the difference of his pay as a Senator, and that of Vice President, during the time that he was president pro tem of the Senate, which was adopted unanimously.

Mr. Seward presented a petition from E. K. Collins and others, of New York, praying that a further appropriation be made for the protection of life and property on our coasting vessels, which was referred to the committee on commerce.

Mr. Badger said it is well, sir, in the hurry of business, the Senate should not forget this Thursday, and therefore, lest it might be overlooked, I submit the usual motion, that when the Senate adjourn it adjourn until Monday.—[Laughter.]

Mr. Dawson—Mr. Badger is sensible to the last; I thought he looked fatigued.

The motion was agreed to.

A bill for the benefit of George Fisher was passed.

Mr. Pearce introduced a joint resolution, naming Rufus Choate and J. K. Paulding regents of the Smithsonian Institute, to fill the vacancies which were known to the country.

Mr. Seward presented a petition from E. K. Collins and others, of New York, praying that a further appropriation be made for the protection of life and property on our coasting vessels, which was referred to the committee on commerce.

Mr. Badger said it is well, sir, in the hurry of business, the Senate should not forget this Thursday, and therefore, lest it might be overlooked, I submit the usual motion, that when the Senate adjourn it adjourn until Monday.—[Laughter.]

Mr. Dawson—Mr. Badger is sensible to the last; I thought he looked fatigued.

The motion was agreed to.

A bill for the benefit of George Fisher was passed.

Mr. Pearce introduced a joint resolution, naming Rufus Choate and J. K. Paulding regents of the Smithsonian Institute, to fill the vacancies which were known to the country.

Mr. Seward presented a petition from E. K. Collins and others, of New York, praying that a further appropriation be made for the protection of life and property on our coasting vessels, which was referred to the committee on commerce.

Mr. Badger said it is well, sir, in the hurry of business, the Senate should not forget this Thursday, and therefore, lest it might be overlooked, I submit the usual motion, that when the Senate adjourn it adjourn until Monday.—[Laughter.]

Mr. Dawson—Mr. Badger is sensible to the last; I thought he looked fatigued.

The motion was agreed to.

A bill for the benefit of George Fisher was passed.

Mr. Pearce introduced a joint resolution, naming Rufus Choate and J. K. Paulding regents of the Smithsonian Institute, to fill the vacancies which were known to the country.

Mr. Seward presented a petition from E. K. Collins and others, of New York, praying that a further appropriation be made for the protection of life and property on our coasting vessels, which was referred to the committee on commerce.

Mr. Badger said it is well, sir, in the hurry of business, the Senate should not forget this Thursday, and therefore, lest it might be overlooked, I submit the usual motion, that when the Senate adjourn it adjourn until Monday.—[Laughter.]

Mr. Dawson—Mr. Badger is sensible to the last; I thought he looked fatigued.

The motion was agreed to.

A bill for the benefit of George Fisher was passed.

Mr. Pearce introduced a joint resolution, naming Rufus Choate and J. K. Paulding regents of the Smithsonian Institute, to fill the vacancies which were known to the country.

Mr. Seward presented a petition from E. K. Collins and others, of New York, praying that a further appropriation be made for the protection of life and property on our coasting vessels, which was referred to the committee on commerce.

Mr. Badger said it is well, sir, in the hurry of business, the Senate should not forget this Thursday, and therefore, lest it might be overlooked, I submit the usual motion, that when the Senate adjourn it adjourn until Monday.—[Laughter.]

Mr. Dawson—Mr. Badger is sensible to the last; I thought he looked fatigued.

The motion was agreed to.

A bill for the benefit of George Fisher was passed.

Mr. Pearce introduced a joint resolution, naming Rufus Choate and J. K. Paulding regents of the Smithsonian Institute, to fill the vacancies which were known to the country.

Mr. Seward presented a petition from E. K. Collins and others, of New York, praying that a further appropriation be made for the protection of life and property on our coasting vessels, which was referred to the committee on commerce.

Mr. Badger said it is well, sir, in the hurry of business, the Senate should not forget this Thursday, and therefore, lest it might be overlooked, I submit the usual motion, that when the Senate adjourn it adjourn until Monday.—[Laughter.]

Mr. Dawson—Mr. Badger is sensible to the last; I thought he looked fatigued.

The motion was agreed to.

A bill for the benefit of George Fisher was passed.

Mr. Pearce introduced a joint resolution, naming Rufus Choate and J. K. Paulding regents of the Smithsonian Institute, to fill the vacancies which were known to the country.

Mr. Seward presented a petition from E. K. Collins and others, of New York, praying that a further appropriation be made for the protection of life and property on our coasting vessels, which was referred to the committee on commerce.

Mr. Badger said it is well, sir, in the hurry of business, the Senate should not forget this Thursday, and therefore, lest it might be overlooked, I submit the usual motion, that when the Senate adjourn it adjourn until Monday.—[Laughter.]

Mr. Dawson—Mr. Badger is sensible to the last; I thought he looked fatigued.

The motion was agreed to.

A bill for the benefit of George Fisher was passed.

Mr. Pearce introduced a joint resolution, naming Rufus Choate and J. K. Paulding regents of the Smithsonian Institute, to fill the vacancies which were known to the country.

Mr. Seward presented a petition from E. K. Collins and others, of New York, praying that a further appropriation be made for the protection of life and property on our coasting vessels, which was referred to the committee on commerce.

Mr. Badger said it is well, sir, in the hurry of business, the Senate should not forget this Thursday, and therefore, lest it might be overlooked, I submit the usual motion, that when the Senate adjourn it adjourn until Monday.—[Laughter.]

Mr. Dawson—Mr. Badger is sensible to the last; I thought he looked fatigued.

The motion was agreed to.

A bill for the benefit of George Fisher was passed.

Mr. Pearce introduced a joint resolution, naming Rufus Choate and J. K. Paulding regents of the Smithsonian Institute, to fill the vacancies which were known to the country.

Mr. Seward presented a petition from E. K. Collins and others, of New York, praying that a further appropriation be made for the protection of life and property on our coasting vessels, which was referred to the committee on commerce.

Mr. Badger said it is well, sir, in the hurry of business, the Senate should not forget this Thursday, and therefore, lest it might be overlooked, I submit the usual motion, that when the Senate adjourn it adjourn until Monday.—[Laughter.]

Mr. Dawson—Mr. Badger is sensible to the last; I thought he looked fatigued.

The motion was agreed to.

A bill for the benefit of George Fisher was passed.

Mr. Pearce introduced a joint resolution, naming Rufus Choate and J. K. Paulding regents of the Smithsonian Institute, to fill the vacancies which were known to the country.

Mr. Seward presented a petition from E. K. Collins and others, of New York, praying that a further appropriation be made for the protection of life and property on our coasting vessels, which was referred to the committee on commerce.

